ONLY 326 VOTE IN PRIMARY SATURDAY

Less than one out of ten qualified voters in Medina County went to the polls Saturday to select candidates in the Democratic runoff primary.

Only six of the county's twenty polls opened. They were at Natalia, East Devine, Black Creek, Yancey, South Hondo and West

Devine. Total vote cast was 326, with the potential votes estimated at near 4,000.

White carried Black Creek and Yancey, McDonald received majorities at East Devine, West Devine and South Hondo, and Natalia gave each candidate 28 votes.

In the judicial races, Medina County picked two winners, W. A. Morrison for the court of criminal appeals and Meade F. Griffin for the supreme court, place 3, and endorsed one loser, Fagan Dickson, for the supreme court, place 1. Returns were as follows in the county: Morrison 215, Robert Lattimore 95; Griffin 231, George Harwood 79; and Dickson 191, Will Wilson 85.

Bird On Wire Not Good Target

"Please don't shoot at birds on telephone lines," is the plea of C. C. Bradshaw, manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, who says that each year thousands of telephone wires are broken by stray shots during the hunting season. Dove season opens Sept. 1.

"Birds can fly away," Bradshaw said, "but telephone wires just have to sit there and take it. It's not that the hunters deliberately try to hit the wires, and I don't think sportsmen would shoot at a sitting bird on a wire, but I guess they just don't realize that a hasty shot might cause serious damage to telephone lines and disrupt long distance service."

Explaining the yearly dilemma, Bradshaw pointed out that each hunting season money, man-hours, and telephone calls are lost through gunfire damage to telephone lines. "It would help a lot," he said, "if hunters would be very careful when they are in the vicinity of telephone lines. Even if a bullet or shot only nicks the wire, when cold weather comes the wire contracts and the added stress may cause it to break."

One solution advanced by the manager was that telephone engineers might try to develop a type of wire that would move when shot at. "In the meantime," he said, "all we can do is ask hunters to be careful when shooting at birds near telephone wires."

Jaycees Will Make Band Project Plans

Further plans for the Hondo All Star-SWTJC football game will be made when the Junior Chamber of Commerce meets on Sept. 11. The Jaycees hope to discuss means of getting support for their high school band fund.

'Old Stinker' Was Pretty Shrewd Skunk, Tilley Says

By Joy Tilley Jr.

This old ballyhoo about animals being dumb sure makes a feller set up and wonder sometimes whether animals are really dumb or whether they are so smart that they act dumb at the right times in order to fool these dumb people that think they are so smart. Now take my pet skunk for instance — that dumb little polecat must have been pretty wise.

You see my pet polecat disappeared, and since I can't accuse any one of being low enough to steal a skunk, I just naturally have to give old Stinker credit for being pretty shrewd.

Now Stinker's cage was an abandoned rabbit hutch about three feet wide and six feet long. This cage stood off the ground about twenty four inches and had a bottom, or floor made of 1" x 4" lumber. The back and ends of the cage were made of 1" x 12" lumber and the front was screened with small mesh chicken wire netting. The top of the cage was made of 1" x 6" sheeting and covered with weather-proof shingles. Now at each end of the cage was a door made of 1" x 12" lumber three feet long, hinged at the bottom and hooked at the top with ordinary screen door latches. These hooks were about 24 inches above the cage floor and were, of course, latched for a trip to East Texas. They will visit Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Singley at Martin Mills. They plan to return this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Highsmith and son, Mrs. Leo Highsmith and daughters and Mrs. Milton Highsmith and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Reaves in Utopia Sunday.

Word was received Thursday of the death of Henry Wheeler, who was in a San Antonio hospital. Burial was at Mission Burial Park in San Antonio Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Evans, Emil Bohmfalk, Marlene Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Ward and Peggy and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Faseler attended the services held by Rev. Byron Bryant of Harlandale Baptist Church.

Sgt. and Mrs. John H. Muenink and son of Corpus Christi visited Hondo and Yancey relatives this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wiemers and daughters returned Monday from their trip. They toured the western states, went up into Canada, and returned by way of Montana, Wyoming and Colorado. In Canada, the girls enjoyed playing in the snow.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Berry and family of Belton visited here this week.

from the outside. All in all I thought the cage was strong enough to hold a tiger, much less a polecat.

But I underestimated the intelligence of a skunk. Stinker was about six inches long from front legs to back legs and her legs were some three inches long. Now if she reared up on her hind feet and stretched as far as she could reach, she could probably scratch a good 14 inches — of course from nose to tip of tail (horizontal) she was about 18 inches long and measuring from nose tip to tail tip (perpendicular) she was about the same in length at right angles.

Now maybe animals are dumb — skunks are not! This female, deodorized skunk by some means, reached ten inches above her head to unhook the west door from the outside. To do this she either had to stand on her tail and use her nose, or else she stood on her nose and used her tail. Next she must have pushed the heavy door open and with the help of gravity let it fall toward the ground. Then she jumped to the ground two feet below.

Up to now I almost kept up with the skunk in thinking, but she outdoes me now. This door was pushed or lifted back into its closed position. How Miss Skunk did this I will probably never know. Another thing. The hook wasn't fastened back in position — why didn't she finish up by latching the door so that I would know she didn't get out of the cage! Then all evidence would show that she disappeared simply by eating herself from tail to nose!

Of course, I can realize why she left after having lived here for three months. It wasn't that she didn't enjoy eating the birds, rabbits, lizards crickets, etc., that were furnished her for free. Nor was it because for her to play with my children who petted and pampered her into following them all over the yard. I don't even think she left because of the warm baths she got once a week. Really, I think she didn't want her folks to find out that she was associating with me!

Now if I could just picture anyone who would stoop low enough to steal a skunk I could go on believing that animals are dumb. But at present, all I can say is, "Stinker, old girl, you are very, very smart."

My children think that she will be smart enough to put herself back in the cage so they can spoil her with such delicacies as crickets, liver and ice cream. If she doesn't maybe I'll see her some day and let her tell her story in her own words.

Social Security Now Extended To 2,886

On Aug. 28, 1950, President Truman signed a new social security law which will mean an estimated $1,081 per month in additional payments to those receiving retirement and survivors benefits in Medina County, according to Gordon James, manager of the San Antonio social security office. "This will bring total benefits coming into Medina County up to $2,486 per month," James said.

Increased coverage provided for in the new law will give social security protection to about 577 additional working persons and their families, James pointed out. These include self-employed persons, except certain professions, domestics, and full time agriculture workers. The total thus covered under the law is now better than 2,886 persons for Hondo and vicinity alone.

YOUR HEALTH

By George W. Cox,
State Health Officer

City fathers in three Texas cities, by artificially adding fluoride salts to their municipal water supplies, are making the dream of fewer tooth cavities come true.

Corpus Christi and Marshall have fluoridation systems working now. Austin has one in the installation process.

If things go according to plan, children in these towns will be spared easily half the visits they now have to make to their family dentists, because they'll have fewer cavities.

State health officer George W. Cox describes the fluoridation process as a "tremendous step forward in the fight against dental diseases. It's simple and inexpensive, as well as effective."

"It won't be a cure-all," cautions Dr. Edward Taylor, director of dental health at the State Health Department. "It won't give children complete protection against tooth decay, but it will reduce decay from 23 to 47 percent."

He said that range of reduction percentage had been established in departmental experiments with artificial fluoridation in Marshall.

The addition of the chemical to drinking water in the ratio of 1 to 1.5 parts per million parts of water now has been recommended as a decay control measure by the United States Public Health Service, the American Water Works Association, and the Association of State and Territorial Dental Health Directors.

Recommendations are subject to approval of state and local health departments, which has been granted in the case of the three Texas cities.

Marshall began artificial fluoridation in 1946 in a controlled experiment, and was a leader in the field both nationally and locally. Corpus Christi began the water treatment in October last year.

Austin City Manager Walter Seaholm has indicated that orders for equipment have been placed, and treatment will begin as soon as delivery and installation are complete.

Combining the population of the three cities, over 300,000 people will soon be drinking water chemically treated to retard or prevent dental decay.

DEER TAG TEST RESUMED

Further studies to determine the best deer tag for Texas big game hunters will be made this fall, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission.

The tag system was adopted by the Legislature as a conservation measure since it is designed to restrict each hunter to two antlered deer in one season. Enforcement of this bag limit was difficult under the old law.

The 1949 Act stipulated that deer, when shot, must be tagged with a number and data showing the successful hunter's name, date and place the game was bagged, all corresponding with the name and data on the hunter's license.

Tags, presumably metal, were prescribed by the new law, but such self-destructible tags were found inadequate to contain the required data. Last fall two small detachable stubs were connected by a perforated link to the main license. Holes in the ends of the stubs were intended to facilitate tying on the tag.

Hunters complained that the paper markers came off in transit, particularly if they got wet, and that the eyes in the tags pulled out. Meanwhile, the game department studied systems used elsewhere. States using the metal tags reported difficulty in inseparably connecting the gadgets with the paper licenses, and that license distributors had difficulty locating the metal markers with numbers corresponding to the main license.

The Executive Secretary said the new paper stubs are to be used without eyes for string. He suggested the 1950 hunters may find a minimum of trouble by placing the tags around deer horns at the base and sealing them on with Scotch tape. Thus, when the game warden checks the hunters bag, he will unroll the tag, inspect it and then seal it back on with the original tape.

Washington NEWS-60-ROUND

Super-Duper Spy Agency

IT ISN'T generally known, but Admiral Roscoe Hillekoetter, chief of the super-duper spy agency, Central Intelligence, had asked for sea duty well before the Korean outbreak.

The admiral has done a better job of foreign intelligence than congress gives him credit for, but he has never been particularly happy in the job and would like to get back to a battleship. Hillekoetter was former commander of the battleship Missouri, comes from the state of Missouri, and was picked by Truman personally for the difficult intelligence assignment.

Faced with the admiral's insistence that he wants to be transferred, President Truman has asked Gen. Bedell Smith, former U.S. ambassador to Moscow, to take Central Intelligence. Smith, so far, has refused, on the ground that he recently underwent an ulcer operation.

Therefore, some of the President's friends are urging that he appoint J. Edgar Hoover to this important post.

Hoover is one of the best organizers in government, has built up one of the best-trained investigation bureaus the world has ever seen, and has it in such good shape that it could operate under a new director.

On the other hand, getting intelligence on a prospective enemy is all-important in this day when a suitcase smuggled into an American harbor, or the flight of one plane across the arctic, or the secret massing of troops on a certain border could cripple the United States indefinitely.

That is why a man of Hoover's genius ought to be used to head an agency which today has become even more important than the F.B.I.

After You Alphonse

Republican members of the joint economic committee were just as cooperative as Democrats in supporting President Truman's call for increased taxes. Even Ohio's rugged individualist, Bob Taft, went along.

"The boys who are being inducted to fight for us are paying the greatest tax—with life and limb," declared another Ohioan, Democratic representative Walter Huber, during the closed-door meeting. "It's up to us to shoulder the financial —complained about the strategy of bypassing the foreign affairs and armed services committees by sending the $4-billion measure directly to the senate and house appropriations committees.

The time you will save will not be worth the bad feeling you will create in congress," protested Short. "If you went through the regular procedure of getting authorizations from the foreign affairs and armed services committees, you could still get this bill to the floor in a day.

"A lot of my colleagues will want to know what type of weapons we are sending to Europe—what countries are getting how much—and if the shipments can be made without weakening ourselves. But this information will be denied us.

"As one humble and insignificant member of congress," the Missourian continued, "I can't say that we should give unanimous approval to this unconstitutional procedure."

"Oh, you're trying to make an issue out of nothing," snapped the President.

"No, I'm not," retorted his fellow Missourian. "There's a proper and an improper way to handle these matters."

Finally, house GOP leader Joe Martin intervened in favor of the president.

Wiretapping Probe

Betting odds on Capitol Hill are that the federal grand jury now probing police-state methods and the wiretapping inspired by Senator Brewster of Maine will end in a whitewash.

Despite the efforts of conscientious James McInerney, chief of the justice department's criminal division, alibis are arranged to get Senator Brewster and his friends, Pan American Airways, off the hot spot.

In the first place, the justice department held the wiretapping report for almost a year and only fished it out of the files after the facts had been exposed in the press. As a result, the statute of limitations is about to expire, and but one scant week remains—seven days from today—in which the grand jury can act.

Feared for His Life

Meanwhile Senator Brewster's story is that his life was in danger and he called in the Washington police. While they may have tapped some wires in protecting him, he had no knowledge of what they were doing and received no information from them.

Significantly, other policemen who tapped Howard Hughes' wire under Lieutenant Shimon's direction had instructions to listen especially for conversations pertaining to the airplane industry.

Former Resident Of Hondo Passes

Funeral services were held from the Horger Funeral Home Sunday for Mrs. Fredonia Elizabeth Crabtree, long-time resident of Hondo, who passed away at Pomona, Calif. Rev. Arthur Cox officiated.

Services were first held in Pomona on Friday. Interment was in Hondo where she was buried beside her husband who preceded her in death in 1929.

Mrs. Crabtree spent the greater part of her life in Hondo and moved away 11 years ago to live with her children. Born on Jan. 14, 1859 in Mt. Caim, Tex., she was 91 years old. Her parents were Aaron and Elizabeth Wilson Estes.

LARGE NUMBERS OF PINK BOLL WORM FOUND IN MEDINA COUNTY

The pink boll worm, the insect that causes the greatest damage to cotton in most cotton growing countries, has been found in alarming numbers in Medina County.

Field inspection and samples of trash from the cotton gins show that the infestation is the heaviest in the history of this county. This condition can be traced directly to the late cleaning up of cotton fields, last season and the mild winter that followed. We can't do any thing about the weather but you can control this pest by cleaning up your fields as soon as your cotton is picked.

Many cotton growers requested and were granted extensions beyond the plow up dead line, in order that they might harvest a late crop. This caused delays in cleaning up the fields and allowed the pink boll worm to multiply. It also, created a breeding place for the moth of this worm that might drift in on air currents from heavier infested areas. Should this infestation be allowed to build up, these extensions will cost the cotton growers of this county many times over the profit gained from the cotton harvested after the dead line of last season.

However, regardless of how it got here, the immediate problem is what can be done to control this pest. The only known methods of control at this season are: the plowing under of all cotton stalks and trash in the field and the heat treating of cotton seed at the gin. All of the gins in this community are equipped with seed treating machinery and are carrying out their part of the program.

It is now up to the grower to destroy and plow under all parts of the cotton stalk as soon after picking as possible. It is required by law that all green cotton bolls, leaves, squares and stalks be destroyed by Oct. 31 of each year but growers can add greatly to the success of this program by not waiting for the dead line and cleaning up their fields at once.

All indications are that this will be an early season and most fields

The 1950 Interdenominational Audio-Visual Workshop was held on the campus of Southwestern University Aug. 14-18. Among those who received instruction in the use of audio-visual materials and techniques in the local church at this third session of the workshop was Miss Darlene Brucks of Hondo.

The study groups in the workshop consisted of audio-visual fundamentals, general audio-visual administration, and leadership cultivation. Expansion of the curriculum to meet the expressed needs of the delegates was one of the primary objectives of the planning group.

can be cleaned up long before it is required by law. Cotton growers are urged to take advantage of this favorable condition and co-operate by plowing under all cotton stalks right after the harvest, insuring protection for next seasons crop.

GLIMPSES AT THINGS THAT HAVE PASSED

A perusal of the various documents constituting the collection of same left by the late Judge James Paul does not disclose that either he or the Hoffmanns were ever in more than moderate circumstances and, in their later years at least, earned only a meager income.

An itemized "Inventory of Estate of Judge Jas. Paul," "Sold at Auction, Feby. 26th/98," lists some forty-odd items, mostly household goods and "Miscellaneous," such as "garden tools, table linen, feather bed, sheets, towels, pillows, books, wearing apparel," etc., and shows that the entire lot brought the small sum of only $60.00.

There is a later though undated inventory, however, that shows the deceased was in no wise in indigent circumstances.

We quote:

1 Silver watch delivered to E. Paschal
1 Horse (not to be sold) (died)

Whatever his financial circumstances, however, he was possessed of a strong sense of personal pride and a commendable public spirit.

Both these attributes of character are evidenced by the following document, written in a smooth flowing hand that was so characteristic of both the man whose signature it bears and of his book-keeper for many years, one-a med August Weynand, as to leave one in doubt as to which wrote it.

Here we copy:
$50.00.
Castroville, Tex., Mar. 18/90.
Recd. of Jas. Paul Fifty Dollars
Subscription to stock in Haines Mv. R. R.

Jos. Courand, Treas.
Accompanying this receipt is another identical in every way save it is dated a few days later and is made out in favor of Mrs. Hoffmann.

This was just two months previous to the death of that aged lady which occurred on May 25, 1890, and was no doubt subscribed on the advice of her son-in-law.

And thereby harks another sad story in the annals of Castroville of which these receipts are a reminder.

When Collis P. Huntington and his associates were planning the westward extension from San Antonio of the G. H. & S. A. Ry. they demanded of the citizens of Castroville a large bonus to bring the road through their town, then the county-seat of Medina County.

Unable to mulct the people out of the sum they demanded, the promoters diverted the road several miles out of its straight course to circle the town at such a distance as to evade the law at that time requiring that railroads being constructed within a certain distance of a county seat town must build through the town, passed up Castroville and thereby took a fearful vengeance on its property-holders and its future welfare.

Following the construction of the railroad through the county in 1881, Castroville people saw the new towns of LaCoste, Dunlay, Hondo and new D'Hanis spring up and begin to grow, while their own town and the settlements at Quihi, New Fountain and old D'Hanis began to shrivel up, and too late they realized the damage that had been done them.

In desperation they sought a railroad connection.

Accordingly, when a promoter by the name of Haines came on the scene with a proposition to construct the Haines Medina Valley Railroad, from a junction with the G. H. & S. A. at LaCoste into the heart of the town of Castroville, the citizenship almost in a body emulated Judge Paul and Mrs. Hoffmann in going the limit in subscribing cash to the enterprise.

Some were so enthusiastic for it that they subscribed certain numbers of days labor on construction in lieu of the cash they didn't have.

The road was to follow the curve of the river, between its channel and the foot of the hills on its south and west side without crossing the stream or climbing a hill.

The location was inviting and the plan seemed feasible, and work on the road-bed was begun.

But no rails were ever laid and

Wanted: A Little Fear

A veteran air line pilot who had broken all records for safe flying was asked how he did it. He replied that he had never taken off without a little fear in his heart.

Fear is a distasteful word to most Americans. It connotes cowardice. Our forefathers did not win a wilderness by being afraid. Our fighting men have not preserved our freedom by a craven reluctance to take chances.

Yet the early settlers took no foolish chances. They built stockades for protection, and they kept their powder dry. Military men speak of the calculated risk, which means that the chance of success has been weighed carefully against the danger of failure.

That is what the air line pilot meant when he confessed fear. Not timidity. His was intelligent fear — the knowledge that there are forces continuously at work to trap the unwary, that his experience and skill might be tested and found wanting.

Such intelligent fear was the pilots secret of safety. It made him foresighted, alert, prudent. As a result, he never had an accident.

Sam Tschirhart was a patient

This holiday weekend millions of Americans will be travelling. It would be well to approach the occasion with intelligent fear — recognition of the extra hazards, determination to meet them with extra care.

So if you are driving this weekend and your patience is strained by a slow-moving jam of cars ahead, be a little afraid to pull out of line and race into the unknown.

Take counsel with fear if you consume a hearty picnic lunch and then are tempted to swim alone, or to demonstrate your prowess as a distance swimmer in college days long gone.

Holiday accidents are made of the recklessness, the thoughtless chance-taking, the show-off attitude, the impatience and discourtesy.

Fear — intelligent fear — of the consequences may give you pause — and save your life. Courage is not foolhardiness, and a chance in a million is not the wise man's odds.

Get a little scared over Labor Day — and be alive to enjoy the next holiday.

The best food in this town is in the most ordinary settings. It is found in the automat, those hole-in-the-wall feed dispensers which are located at various conveniently-placed spots around the city. Although the novel practice of getting items of food from the little wall compartments is fading into the storied past, there is still adventure in eating at the automats which are now more like regular cafeterias. The food is fine and not cheap — the only catch being you virtually have to fight your way to a table because of the crowds and if you get to one successfully after balancing precariously a tray and drink, etc., you feel so thankful that probably any food would taste good anyway.

It was as quiet as a cemetery on Sunday morning when I walked into the Pierpont Morgan Library at 36th Street and Madison Avenue. But being a lover of literature, I found that the place soon came to life. Passing into the largest room of the elegant marble mansion, I found around its paneled walls a priceless collection of original manuscripts which made me reverent in the midst of this mine of artistry. Poems of Poe, filled copy paper of Dickens, the pages of Walt Whitman and chapters of Mark Twain met my delighted eyes, all done in the original handwriting of the authors with corrections, etc., in the days when typewriters were still practically unknown. Here is an example where the money of a wealthy man was put to superb and lasting use.

New York college girls are home again and again they are wearing clothes more like those of human beings. By this I refer to the ugly jeans and unspeakable shirt-tails which certain of our collegiate set have taken to in recent years in an apparent effort to replace the picture of the ragged hobo which is fast fading from our sight. How some colleges allow such apparel I cannot see unless they are setting aside higher education in favor of lower animal appearance.

Outside a hotel, I was caught in a melee of kids whirling about excitedly and I had to get off on the edge of the curb to find out what it was all about. There in the middle of the gang of adoring adolescents was "Red" Schoendienst, baseball star of the St. Louis Cardinals who were in town for a day to play the Brooklyn Dodgers. His red hair stood out like a carrot in a patch of healthy humanity as he signed autographs and good-naturedly answered the questions of his young admirers. It reminded me of my young days back in the home-town sandlot where we had no celebrities but just as much fun.

Never do I look at Bellevue Hospital on the East River here but what I think of Stephen Foster who died there penniless. It is the oldest hospital on this continent, going back to 1736 when the city was occupied by the British and on the site was a "Publick Workhouse and House of Correction." Today Bellevue is a complete city in itself covering about twelve city blocks and dedicated to a great extent to the rehabilitation of paraplegics and other victims of war and disease. Maybe Bellevue and Stephen Foster do have something in common — both going a long way toward making a lot of people happy.

Frosty Cold Foods Help Cheer Family During Hot Spell

"MOM, WHAT do you have that's really cold to eat?" is the question that keeps Mother hopping during spells of hot weather. There's apparently nothing so lifting to spirits as something icy cold when the heat is at its highest.

Well, then, what do you have that's really cold? What about a chilling beverage that packs as much nourishment as it does eye and appetite appeal? Or, how about a cooling dessert like ice cream or a chilled chiffon pie that you can make while the morning is still cool?

Smart mothers will keep the fixings for cooling beverages right at hand where the family can reach them.

When you want something deliciously different in beverages, try some of these nourishing, chilled drinks. Several contain milk in one form or another, just in case the milk is difficult to get into the young folk in its pure form.

Orange Cooler

(Makes 5-6 glasses)
2 cups orange juice
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup maraschino cherry juice
1 cup ginger ale
2 tablespoons honey
1 pint vanilla ice cream
Mix fruit juices and ginger ale; add honey and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add ice cream. Serve in chilled glasses and top with fresh orange slices.

Chocolate Mint Shake

(Makes 1 1/2 quarts)
1/2 cup cocoa malt
1 cup hot milk
3 cups cold milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon peppermint extract
1/2 pint vanilla ice cream
Add cocoa malt to hot milk and stir until dissolved. Add cold milk, salt, vanilla and peppermint extract. Chill. Just before serving place in shaker or jar and add ice cream. Shake until smooth.

Pink Lemonade

(Makes 4-5 glasses)
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup sugar
4 cups water
1/2 cup berries, crushed, or 2 tablespoons cherry juice
8-10 ice cubes
Add sugar to lemon juice and stir until dissolved. Pour into pitcher with ice cubes and water. Stir in berries or cherry juice.

Chocolate Banana Milk Shake

(Serves 6-8)
4 large, ripe bananas
1 quart milk
1/2 to 1/4 cup chocolate syrup
Ice
Press bananas through a sieve, then add milk and chocolate syrup. Add ice and shake or mix thoroughly.

Ginger Lime Rickey

(Serves 6)
1 1/2 cups lime juice

Nothing's cooler or easier to make when the temperature's soaring than a refreshing lime beverage. You may like a simple limeade of sugar, water and juice, with lime wedges and ice cubes, or you may prefer ginger ale with limeade for something different.

LYNN SAYS: Try These Flavor Catching Ways with your Foods

For biscuits that are a quick treat, make a drop biscuit dough, and stir in it 2 teaspoons sugar and 1 teaspoon grated orange rind.

Provide dressings to serve with cold meat platters to make them more interesting. You can start with mayonnaise, and then use it as a base with any of the following: chopped, hard-cooked eggs, chives, green stuffed olives and horse-radish.

Simple but pretty is this ice cream dessert that has a flavor-some grape sauce to go with it. The ice cream is scooped on a large platter and garnished with frosted grapes set on galax leaves. Dip grape clusters with egg white, then dip in granulated sugar to give them a frostlike look.

Combine sugar and lime juice. Shake with ice until very cold and frosty. Add ginger ale and mix well. Serve with floating lime wedges.

*Lime Chiffon Pie

(Makes 1 9-inch pie)
Crust:
5 tablespoons melted butter
1 1/4 cup graham cracker crumbs (about 12 crackers)
Filling:
1 package lime-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1/2 cup sugar
Grated rind of 2 limes
Juice of 2 limes plus water to make 1/2 cup
1 tall can evaporated milk
Mix butter and crumbs thoroughly. Press evenly over bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate to form crumb shell. Chill.

To make filling, dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add sugar, grated rind and lime juice. Chill gelatin mixture until it has the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Whip chilled milk until stiff. Fold whipped milk into gelatin mixture quickly but thoroughly. Pour into crumb shell and chill until set, about 2 or 3 hours.

Ice Cream with Grape Sauce

(Serves 6)
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
2 cups white seedless grapes
1 quart vanilla ice cream
Make a syrup of sugar and water, cooking until mixture spins a thread, about 5 minutes. Add lemon juice, grated rind and stemmed grapes which have been washed and dried. Cook together over low heat until grapes are tender. Remove grapes and cook until syrup is medium thick, from 3 to 5 minutes longer. Add grapes and cool. Pile ice cream on plate and pass with sauce.

Peach Refrigerator Cake

(Serves 6-8)
1 cup canned cling peach halves
2 teaspoons plain gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
1/2 cup hot water
1 cup whipping cream
1/4 cup sifted confectioner's sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 8-inch loaf cake
1 pint vanilla ice cream
Peaches and maraschino cherries for garnish
Drain peaches and press through sieve. Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve in hot water. Stir into peaches. Chill until slightly thickened. Whip cream; add sugar and vanilla. Fold in peach mixture. Cut cake into 2 layers and put together with ice cream. Spear top and sides with whipped peach mixture. Place in freezing compartment until frosting has set. Garnish with quartered peaches and cherries.

Here's a half an hour casserole for quick dinners: layer sliced, canned tongue in a casserole with thinly sliced potatoes. Pour a can of onion soup over all and bake in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes.

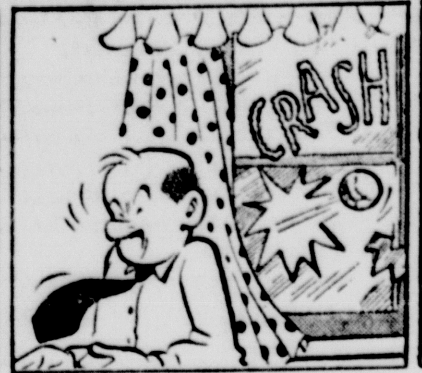

Make these interesting stirrers for iced tea: use canned or fresh pineapple spears, and skewer a maraschino cherry on top of each with a toothpick. It's not only pretty, but it gives the tea a lovely flavor.

BENTSEN Reports From Washington

WASHINGTON — Because the new Social Security legislation directly affects many of the citizens of our district, my letter this week is devoted to a brief summary of some of its new aspects.

This new legislation adds about 10,000,000 persons to the 35 million covered by the Social Security law up to now. For the first time, the self employed come under its benefits, excepting some specified groups such as doctors and lawyers. Benefits are increased, as well as coverage. Increases will average about 77½ per cent. Some of the low benefit groups will benefit 100 per cent.

MAJOR CHANGES

Here, in brief summary, are the major changes:

1. More coverage: About ten million more persons will come under Social Security, mostly the self-employed, farm workers, and household workers.

2. Higher benefits: First, for those getting benefit pay, who will get roughly 77½ per cent more, beginning with checks to be mailed out October 3. Second, for "new starts," who retire after June 30, 1952. Their benefits will average double the present payments.

3. Easier eligibility: It will take less years, generally, to come under Social Security. Survivors and dependents will also be able to earn $50 in covered employment without losing benefits, instead of the present $15 limit.

ANALYSIS OF SYSTEM

The Congress debated this new legislation thoroughly. Extensive hearings were held by both the House and the Senate during the greater portion of this Congress.

In floor debate, members of Congress brought out these salient points which are included here so that the full import of the bill might be explained.

So, in more detail, here is the picture: Small business people the grocer and the service station proprietor and others, will be covered, but not lawyers, dentists, doctors, accountants, engineers, or architects.

In figuring benefits, a self employed person will simply transfer information from his regular income tax return to a simple added form. His tax contribution will be one half more than the wage earner's, meaning that if the worker puts in 1½ per cent of his wages (and his employer does the same), the self-employed person puts in 2¼ per cent.

DOMESTIC HELP

One million persons who work in homes (not farm homes) become the second largest group covered. Those working in farm homes are also covered, as agricultural workers. A domestic worker who works for one employer at least 24 days in each quarter year, and gets cash wages of at least $50, is covered. For example, a maid working two days a week would benefit, but not if working only one day per week.

The third large group includes agricultural workers, those working regularly on farms and also those processing any farm products off the farm. This means those working for poultry hatcheries, irrigation projects, and commercial handlers of fruits and vegetables. It also includes employees of farmer co-operatives.

To qualify as regularly employed a farm worker must work steadily for one employer for three months before coverage starts, then continue to work for that employer for 60 full days and receive cash wages of at least $50 for each quarter-year.

LOCAL STATE PROGRAM

Some 1,500,000 employed by state and local governments will be covered through voluntary agreements with the federal government (unless they were already

Orders To Report For Physical Exam Prohibits Enlisting

"Will I be able to enlist after I'm notified to report for physical examination by my draft board?"

The answer is "no," Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state director of Selective Service, said this week.

Gen. Wakefield referred to the section of the Selective Service Act of 1948, which prohibits acceptance of a registrant for enlistment after he has received orders to report for induction.

This does not in any way prevent any registrant from joining an organized unit of a reserve component (which includes the National Guard) after he has received an order to report for physical examination, Gen. Wakefield said.

"But he cannot enlist for a tour of active duty in the Army, Air Force, or other department of the National Military Establishment after he receives his order to report for physical examination," Gen. Wakefield concluded.

Here in HONDO

Mrs. Bob Kollman spent Friday in San Antonio visiting relatives. Her mother, Mrs. C. R. Gaines, returned to Hondo with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Harlee of Pearsall visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Harlee this week. They will move to 1101 Barton Springs Road, Austin, on Sept. 1, where Sonny has accepted the position of district circulation manager for the San Antonio Light. Mrs. Harlee will attend Texas University.

covered by a state or local system when the agreement is reached). Federal employees not previously covered by a federal retirement system come under the new SOCIAL SECURITY.

Those employed by non profit groups (religious, education, etc.) will be covered if (1) the employer agrees to pay his part of the contribution and (2) two-thirds or more of the employees favor such coverage. Ministers and members of religious orders are exempt, however.

Others newly covered will be: Full-time life insurance salesmen, some full-time traveling salesmen (not house-to-house sellers), and many delivery truck drivers and home industrial workers (who produce certain things at home) working under specified conditions.

NO APPLICATION NECESSARY

Those who are already retired are getting benefits, and those who will retire or start getting benefits before June 1952 will receive (average) benefits of about 77½ per cent more than now. This will be amounts about half again as large for those now receiving the higher benefits. It will be about double for the present low-benefit groups. For example: A person getting only $10 will get $20 under the new law, while one getting $46 will get $68.50. These increases start at once (effective September 1950) and checks mailed out October 3 will carry higher amounts.

You do not have to apply for the increase. Any increase will start automatically. If the increase fails, for any reason, to be in the October check, it will show up later in full. Adios.

The Seco Philosopher

J. A., LIKE CHEMICAL KILLERS, DEVELOPES IMMUNITY TO WEEDS

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm, an exponent of easy farming, has had news for his hard-working neighbors, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

I read in a copy of Time Magazine which I picked up in the dentist's office in town the other day and will return if my tooth ever starts hurtin again where scientists are baffled over the fact weeds and grass can build up an immunity to these new-fangled weed killers, which they been promisin was gonna revolutionize farmin and take it as easy as makin change in a bank.

It seems like the first year these chemicals will kill weeds and grass satisfactorily, but by the second year some of the weeds and grass begin catchin on and build up an immunity and the chemicals have no effect on em. no more'n my wife's naggin has on me. As a result, scientists and some farmers are tearin their hair over this.

But it hasn't bothered me. I learned long ago that grass and weeds was apparently here to stay and the smart thing to do was for me to build up an immunity against them. I ain't no scientist but I figure I got as much sense as a weed and if it can build up immunity against me, I can against it. Live and let live, is my policy. Weeds and us both is part of nature and we stopped objectin to each other years ago.

As far as I'm concerned, weeds and grass are not only immune to chemicals but also to plowin and choppin. Never could see no sense in tryin to kill out Johnson grass if I was gonna come close to doin the same to me in the process.

Scientists are always bringin out in the headlines at least new methods of wipin out pests and weeds and heraldin a new dawn for easy farmin, but somethin always slips up by the time the new method gets to the middle of the field and as well as I can tell the only method that's still effective is hard work and that ain't appealed to me in years.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

DEVINE CORRESPONDENT WRITES OF ICE HOUSES, DIAL PHONES, POLICE RADIOS, SQUARE DANCES

By Mrs. Joy Tilley

Mrs. Joy Tilley, our Devine correspondent, is on a short vacation in Corpus Christi with her husband. She sent us the article below this week in place of her regular Devine news:

CORPUS CHRISTI — "You never get too old to learn." This has been brought home to us every day since our arrival here Thursday afternoon. We can see an improvement in our educational facilities every day. We find this city conducts its affairs slightly differently from our own little city.

Businesses are different, too. For instance, we went for some ice to pack fish in, drove up to a sign that said, "ICE," and honked our horn for service. No one showed up to wait on us, and the place seemed deserted; between honkings, we watched for some one who looked like an ice man, and presently a man in wet clothing passed and we poked some money at him and asked, "Hey, mister, are you the proprietor here?" He replied, "No, lady, you have to wait on yourself." There we had wasted 30 minutes of good fishing time when all we had to do was drop nickels in the slot, pick up a bag of ice, and be on our way. Now, "ain't that education?" If your local ice dealer would install one of these self-operating machines, he would sure have a lot of spare time to do the things he likes to do.

Another thing they are doing here is installing a new-fangled telephone. It is smaller, more compact, has a shorter and much lighter receiver-transmitter. The receiver and mouth-piece are closer together, making it more convenient for short-faced users and working no hardship on those with long faces. The numbers are on the outside of the dial, permitting the user to easily see them. This streamlined model has a bell-tone control. A customer can tone the ring of the bell to his liking — soft, medium or loud — to satisfy the light sleeper, deep sleeper and the indifferent. No need for Farmer-Ranchman's Telephone Co-op to get excited over this new idea, because it is for straight-line users only. Party-line boxes are still in the lab, and there are only 16 of the new ones being used experimentally in Corpus. How's that for learning?

This town didn't get the jump on us in starting school. Their children go back to school on Sept. 5, same as ours. The enrollment here, of 21,000, may be a little over ours. The vast majority, over 18,000, will be in the public schools and 2,500 in private and parochial schools.

We think our education here would broaden if we didn't stay so close in, confining ourselves rather close to our tourist quarters and fishing grounds. We never considered ourselves as being cowardly, but are kinda leery about going up town. The city police radio station has got us buffaloed. Anything that can turn a "wanted" man into a "hunted" man in the matter of seconds, can throw a whole cordon of police around a given area in seconds and around the vast area of Texas in five minutes — well, should we come in contact with anything that powerful it might throw us clear into Korea, even if we are on the hefty side. The Highway Patrol has also set up one of these things at Calallen, a suburb, and it works closely with the city radio.

These machines do have a redeeming trait. They send wayward husbands home before their paychecks are guzzled up, and answer questions sent in by women. One such question was, "Where do love bird eggs hatch?" Silly, wasn't it.

These women are selfish, too. Last Saturday night we slipped along the waterfront and took in a square dance jamboree on the Peoples' Street T-head. Twelve callers called two sets each. The whole T-head was swarming with dancers doing the Texas Star, Wagon Wheel, etc. That's where we met up with the selfish women. Every one of them on the dance floor had a partner, and believe me, she held on to him. That's why we didn't get to dance, not even one set.

the scheme ended in a complete failure and loss to the stockholders.

Among the other relics are the fragments of three newspapers, all too old and fragile to permit of much handling.

Two of them are parts of the Semi-Weekly San Antonio Express but they are so frayed about the edges as to make it impossible to determine the date of issue.

Headlines still legible indicate they were printed about the close of the Japanese-Russian War, and since that war ended by a treaty of peace, signed at Portsmouth, N. H., on September 5, 1905, and ratified by the Emperors of Russia and Japan and made public October 16, 1905, some eight years after the death of Judge Paul, they had evidently been preserved by Dr. FitzSimon himself.

Indicative of the contents of the ancient sheet is this three-story, front page headline over a Tokyo, June 4, date line:

"Flowers Sent Rojstvensky by Yamamoto.

"Japanese Minister of Navy writes letter to Russia Vice-Admiral.

"Expresses Respect for His Prisoner.

The Russians had been defeated by the Japs at the battle of Vladivostock, many Russians were their prisoners and the Japs were evidently feeling quite generous.

Judge for yourself from the dispatch:

"Admiral Yamamoto, Minister of the Navy, has dispatched flowers for the room of Vice Admiral Rojstvensky. Accompanying the flowers was a letter to the wounded Russian officer, saying:

"I beg to express my respects for you in discharging your duty like a soldier and fighting desperately for the sake of your fatherland. I cannot refrain from sympathizing with you in your wounded condition and hope the accommodations of our hospitals and ability of our naval surgeons will ease your sufferings and speedily restore your health."

"Admiral Yamamoto also sent a general letter to the wounded Russia officers and men, expressing the hope that their suffering

In a boxed article is another dispatch from Tokio beginning:

"Admiral Togo visited Admiral Rojstvensky at the naval hospital Saturday and expressed his sympathy for the Admirals wounds."

Here the frayed edges of a fold in the paper makes the next line illegible.

It would be interesting to quote further from these old sheets, but we must desist.
